

This architectural floor plan depicts a large, rectangular hall with a thick perimeter wall. The hall is divided into three main sections by two vertical walls. On the left side, there is a staircase with a landing area. The top-left section contains three small rectangular rooms, each labeled 'CENTRALE ELETTRICA ATTACCHATO'. The top-middle section contains a single room labeled 'CENTRALE ELETTRICA'. The top-right section contains a single room labeled 'CENTRALE ELETTRICA'. The bottom-left section contains a large open area with a small rectangular table and a chair. The bottom-middle section contains a large open area with a small rectangular table and a chair. The bottom-right section contains a large open area with a small rectangular table and a chair. The plan includes numerous small squares, likely representing electrical outlets or switches, and a series of small squares along the bottom wall, possibly representing a row of lockers or storage units.

Architectural floor plan of the first floor of the 'Palazzo della Cultura' in Palermo. The plan shows various rooms including a large hall (AULA 1), a library (BIBLIOTECA), a cafeteria (CAFFETERIA), a kitchen (CUCINA), a meeting room (SALA RIUNIONI), a storage room (MAGAZZINO), a technical room (TECNICA), a reception area (RICEZIONE), and a main entrance (INGRESSO PRINCIPALE). The plan also indicates the location of the 'PALAZZO DELLA CULTURA' and the 'PALAZZO DELLA SANITA'.
